FIVE GENERALS KILLED IN BATTLE

San Domingo Trouble Seems to Be the Real Thing.

It is Reported That the United States is in a State of Emergency.

TREATY MAY COME UP SOON

New York, Jan. 5.—Dispatches from Puerto Plata show that five generals were killed in the recent fighting between the forces representing President Morales and Vice President Caceres, who has assumed the executive office.

The Morales generals killed were Rodriguez, Lico and Perez.

Generals Vanega and Calderon were killed on the other side.

The battle was a bloody one compared with other revolutionary affairs of this kind, and the casualties were a hundred and twenty killed and wounded.

Grave Concern At Washington.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Developments in Santo Domingo continue to give President Roosevelt and his supporters in the senate the gravest concern. The president, although ready to assume responsibility for his official acts, is inclined to let the senate bear part of the burden and has from the outset warned the senators that failure to ratify the Dominican treaty might result in disaster. He has given up hope that the treaty will be ratified, but is not prepared to insist that it be brought to a speedy close.

IS PROSTRATE

Over Her Ejectment by Secret Service Men.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Minor Morris is prostrated as a result of rough treatment she received at the White House yesterday afternoon while being ejected by the police and secret service men under orders of Assistant Secretary Barnes. She is confined to her room at the New Willard, and callers are not allowed to see her.

Mrs. Morris was carried screaming from the executive offices at the White House after her failure to see the president to urge him to reinstate her husband who had been removed from his position. She is a younger sister of Representative Hull of Iowa, chairman of the house committee on military affairs.

About 1900 Dr. Morris was appointed clerk in the office of the surgeon general and in April, 1902, was discharged. Reasons were not specifically stated in the official report of the case.

BLOCKADE RUNNER BLEW UP.

The Carlisle Reported to Be a Total Wreck—Several Lives Lost.

Cardiff, Wales, Jan. 5.—A message from Saigon, French Cochinchina, says that the steamer Carlisle blew up yesterday as a result of a fire on the vessel and several members of the crew are missing, and others are reported injured. The Carlisle was the most intrepid blockade runner of China during the Japanese-Russian war.

Postoffice Receipts for Paducah May Reach $60,000 For the Year 1906

The report for the local postoffice for the past month, quarter and for the year 1905 has been completed, and shows a good increase in all three. The fiscal year does not end until June, but figures are kept for the calendar year, and they show that the total receipts of the Paducah postoffice for the year 1905 were $52,917.51. For the year previous the receipts were $47,499.67, an in-

JO BOYD DEAD.

Former Proprietor of Planters Hotel at Owensboro Dead.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 5.—Jos. Allen Boyd, well-to-do retired business man of Owensboro and former resident of Louisville, died of arterio sclerosis yesterday afternoon at the Beechhurst sanitarium. Mr. Boyd had been suffering from the malady for six years and because of ill health had retired from active business five years ago. He had been confined to his home for three years and was 54 years of age.

Mr. Boyd, with his parents, moved to Louisville twenty-nine years ago and had lived in Louisville twelve years.

For several years he had been a traveling man, employed by Bamberger, Bloom & Co., and later went to Owensboro and became identified with the firms of Brown, McCarroll & Co., J. W. McCulloch and M. V. Monarch, distillers. For several years he was proprietor of the Planters hotel at Owensboro.

NO EFFECT

Will the Action of Boards Have On Telephone Injunction.

The action of the city boards last night in rescinding the resolution to hereafter refuse the East Tennessee Telephone Co. any privileges or rights to use the city streets until it purchased a franchise, will have no effect on the trial of the injunction suit brought by Attorneys Wheeler Hughes & Berry in federal court at Louisville to test the legality of the company's business here, according to the latter.

"It is just like pouring water on a duck's back," Attorney Charles K. Wheeler stated this morning. "We intend to try the case and the action of the municipal boards last night in rescinding the resolution, will have no effect. The injunction suit has been brought and set for trial and tonight Attorney W. A. Berry and I will go up to represent the telephone company."

KILLED HER CHILD.

And Then This Woman Attempted Suicide.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 5.—After kissing her husband good-bye, Mrs. Sallie Blancagniel Pollard shot and fatally wounded her 3-year-old son and then attempted suicide by shooting herself in the head yesterday afternoon in the apartments of her brother, Dr. W. N. Blancagniel.

"I felt that I was losing my mind. I didn't wish to be a burden on anyone else and I could not bear the thought of leaving my child to others."

Mrs. Pollard gave this reason last night. The mother is not expected to live. The Blancagniel family, of which Mrs. Pollard is a member, is one of the most prominent in Louisville.

ANOTHER REPORT ABOUT WITTE

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—An outbreak occurred in the Orenburg district, where troops mutinied and refused to obey orders to attack the revolutionists. The latter are burning and pillaging property and mobs are besieging the local authorities, who have taken refuge in private houses.

A Campaign of Assassination.

Glasgow, Jan. 5.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Herald, wires that while revolutionists were crushed in their attempt to open revolt they now declare their intention to carry on the struggle by wholesale assassination. Kaiser Advises Extreme Measures.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—Your correspondent is informed that the czar has asked Emperor William for advice as to how to deal with the uprising in the Baltic provinces. 21 DIE.

Miners in West Virginia Are Victims of Explosion.

Bluefields, W. Va., Jan. 5.—Twenty-one miners in the Coaldale company's shaft at Coaldale, W. Va., were probably instantly killed by an explosion there yesterday. There were three white men and 18 colored men entombed in the mine and no hope is held out that any escaped death. Most of the property used in the mine was blown to pieces by the explosion. One body has been recovered and that was so mutilated it is unrecognizable. All hope of recovering alive the entombed miners has been shattered by the pouring forth of gases from the different entries.

Bodies All Recovered.

Coaldale, W. Va., Jan. 5.—All the victims of yesterday's mine explosion have been recovered. Twenty-two mangled and burned corpses are lying side by side in the company's poor house. An inquest will be held this afternoon to decide the cause of the explosion, which is now unknown. The mine caved in but did not catch fire.

NOTHING LEARNED.

By Mrs. Johnson in Regard to Missing Husband.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, wife of P. H. Johnson who mysteriously disappeared on November 22, has returned to Mayfield after having visited many parts of Marshall, McCracken, Fulton and Graves counties, in search of some clue to her missing husband.

She says he has never been heard of since the next day after she saw him, after he left the house where he spent the night, about three miles north of Hickory Grove, where he was seen to come in the direction of Paducah.

She now believes that he has been murdered.

The government runs the pawnshops of Italy, and no interest is required on loans.

CUT OFF TOES.

Aged Man Contracts Blood Poison Through An Accident.

Hickman, Ky., Jan. 5.—Bob Faris, an aged citizen, is fatally ill of blood poison. Mr. Faris is one of the oldest men in this county. For some time his feet have been paralyzed, and a few weeks ago, while trimming his toe nails, not being able to see very well or feel any pain at all in his paralyzed limbs, he cut the ends of his toes off even with the nails. The injured toes became sore and blood poison set in and as he is so old he cannot live over 15 days at the longest and maybe not that long.

TRUST FIGHT

Resumed Today in New York For Benefit of Missouri.

New York, Jan. 5.—The fight to drive the Standard Oil Co. from Missouri was resumed here today. Officials of the trust living here were called before Commissioner Sanborn to give testimony. Edward T. Bedford, the Standard magnate, was the first witness. The Standard lawyers insisted that the testimony be taken in long hand according to the code. Bedford refused to answer all important questions by advice of his attorneys and declined to state whether or not answers would incriminate him.

Rome, Jan. 5.—Ten houses are entirely ruined and many shattered and great loss of life resulted when an earthquake yesterday damaged the town of Genzano, Tuscany province.

Fourteen bodies have been recovered, and rescue work continues. The town had eight thousand inhabitants.

HELPED LAWSON

When Schiff Predicted Worst Panic in Years.

New York, Jan. 5.—Jacob H. Schiff senior member of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., sent a tremor through the speculative fabric of the stock market yesterday in a speech in which he predicted that unless something was done to improve the currency condition of the country, there would be a panic compared with which all panics which have gone before would seem as babies' play.

The sensational terms of Schiff's utterances were of such a character that it gave the market a violent shock, prices tumbling in response, Anaconda and Amalgamated Copper participating in the slump.

The Lawson crowd must have reaped a fortune.

A NEW RACE TRACK MAY BE BUILT HERE

Reported That Race Horse Men Have Their Eyes on Paducah.

One String of Horses Already Here, and Others May Come Later On.

NOTHING DEFINITE GIVEN OUT.

Charles Clark's livery stable, at 215 South Third street, is now the home of seven fine race horses, which are in charge of Mr. C. H. Harris, of Union City, Tenn.

The animals and their records are: Loleta 2:13 1/4; Harry A. 2:16 1/4; Robert Bivins, 2:19 1/4; Yancy Q., stallion, by Captain Cook, out of Ethel B, who had a record of 2:16 1/4 and the stallion's trial being 2:14. The other horses are green and have never been run over a track. The horses belong to Vernon Blow, of Louisville.

It is reported that a fine race track is to be built near Paducah and some of the most prominent men in Paducah will be interested. Also it is said that Mr. Vernon Blow is to remove his general offices back here from Louisville and will be a prominent stockholder in the new race track.

A deal is on for the land to be used for the track, but full particulars cannot yet be had. The track will be made one of the finest in the country, and it is said that the ultimate intention of the company is to have regular races here as in Memphis, New Orleans, Louisville and on other prominent tracks. Such a project would bring hundreds of sporting men here. Paducah has always been considered a fine point for race horses.

With the race track there will be a stock farm, where some of the best horses in the country will be raised and trained. It is understood a Uniontown, Ky., man is also interested in the proposed track.

MORE RECRUITS

Are Enlisted at the Local Station—Lieutenant Reed Expected.

First Lieut. Wm. L. Reed, Eleventh infantry, recruiting officer, visited the local recruiting station at the New Richmond House yesterday, and enlisted William W. Curl, of New Albany, Ind., for the infantry service.

Mr. Curl left last night for Jefferson Barracks, Mo., where he will receive his preliminary instructions in the duties of a soldier.

There have been numerous applications for enlistment at the local station since the first of the month, and Sergeant Noyes is jubilant over the outlook for a record-breaking month.

Even the colored applicants are showing up now and from all indications the enlistments during January will far exceed any record for this month in past years.

Lieut. Reed is expected to visit the station on Saturday next to enlist three applicants who applied for enlistment and were accepted by Sergeant Noyes after the lieutenant had returned to Evansville yesterday.

GOOD REBUKE

People Who Complained Against a Show Saw it and Liked it.

Bedford, Ind., Jan. 5.—The "Black Crook, Jr.," theatrical company gave a performance here in spite of protests that had been made to Mayor Smith and Manager Johnson of the Stone City opera house, in which the ministers, mothers of Bedford and the W. C. T. U. members laid claim that the show was of an immoral character.

Mr. Johnson invited these people to attend the performance, which they did to a large number. They failed to see anything of an improper nature and enjoyed the show.

IMPORTANT PLACE

Will Jackson, Tenn., Become After New Birmingham Line is Built.

It is reported in railroad circles that when the Illinois Central completes its Birmingham, Ala., line it will make Jackson, Tenn., its headquarters for that line and for the Jackson district.

The company is already enlarging and improving its dispatchers' office at Jackson.

NOT DYING.

Ed. Finley Appears to Be Improving at Calvert.

Ed. Finley, a young man who lives at Calvert City, Ky., who was shot in the right hand Christmas day while out hunting, was reported today to be dying, but a direct message from there was to the effect that he was getting well. He formerly resided in Paducah.

The unfortunate young man was on a fence. He was hunting and while on the fence accidentally dropped his shotgun. He made a grab for it and the gun hit a log and exploded, sending the load into his hand. Doctor Jones was called and had to amputate the hand two inches above the wrist joint.

Today a report reached the city that blood poison had set in and that he would die. Later his father, Mr. George Finley, arrived in the city and stated that his son was improving and would recover.

Mr. Finley was formerly an attaché of the Kamleiter grocery at Third and Adams streets, and of the Orr grocery at Third and Clark streets. He has many acquaintances in Paducah.

LIVELY TIME.

Over the C. W. Watts Bonds At Denver, Col., But Administrator Wins.

Although little has been heard here about it, there has been a lively fight at Denver, Col., over the $2500 worth of government bonds Mr. C. W. Watts, of Smithland, Ky., had with him when he died at Denver recently.

The public administrator receives about 10 per cent of the value of an estate for administering it. He wants to administer Mr. Watts' estate and get $250 therefor, but the county judge has ordered the estate there, consisting of the bonds, turned over to Mr. David Adams, of Smithland, the lawful administrator. In the meantime the public administrator has appealed to a higher court.

Nothing has been heard lately from the man Dicke at Denver, who claimed he had a will written by Mr. Watts, leaving him all his property. It is believed that since he learned that Mr. Watts had influential people, he abandoned the game, whatever it was.

WILL ACCEPT.

But Hold Back $100 of Contractor's Money to Insure Repairs.

The board of public works after inspecting the Second street pavements yesterday, decided to accept them for the city provided $100 is held out of the money due Contractor Harry Baldwin to insure a few repairs now necessary, being made in the spring. The pavements were finished a year ago but never received.

The board of works held a called meeting yesterday afternoon and prepared its annual report which it turned over to the mayor last night.

Mayfield Politicians Fight.

Just before noon today, a personal difficulty came up between Mr. Art Brand and Judge Ed Crossland in the rotunda of the court house over the party organization of the county. It seems there is talk of electing a new Democratic chairman in the county, and that Mr. Brand favored one person and Judge Crossland another, and in discussing the matter, hot words ensued, and a personal difficulty took place, in which Judge Crossland was struck twice by Mr. Brand, when friends interfered and prevented further trouble. A Messenger reporter failed to get the particulars from both parties, and until that is done it will not attempt to give them. It is thought the trouble will blow over and no further altercations will take place.—Mayfield Messenger.

Eloped to Wickliffe.

Mr. Fred M. Farnbaker, son of Mr. Maurice Farnbaker, of the Cairo Bulletin, and Miss Frances Shafter, daughter of Mr. J. Shafter, of Cairo, eloped to Wickliffe Wednesday and were married.

Both are well known young people of Cairo, the bride being 16 and groom 18. They eloped because the state laws of Illinois would not give them a license. They will reside in Cairo, where the groom is employed in a foundry.

FUNERAL TOMORROW

Mack Logue, better known as Mack Bailey, a popular salesman and known all over the section, died suddenly from apoplexy and general paralysis in a room on the Illinois Central which arrived here this morning 1:40 o'clock from Memphis.

He did not come out of the room when the train reached Paducah and an attempt was made to force the door. His body had fallen in such a way that the door could not be opened, and the train had to be delayed until the body was removed and the train was able to proceed.

It is said he entered the room at Fulton, and remained until the train reached Paducah. He had evidently not been dead long, as his body was still warm when taken into the baggage room and laid on the floor.

He was pronounced dead and remains were taken to the morgue for an examination. This morning by local doctors it was decided that death resulted from apoplexy.

Coroner Frank Baker held an inquest at 9 o'clock, and the jury was:

"We, the jury, after being sworn to ascertain the cause of death of Mack Logue, find that he died from apoplexy and paralysis."

Mr. Finis Fields, foreman of the local I. C. wrecking crew, has returned from Princeton with his wrecking outfit after picking up an overturned steam shovel. AN ARTISTIC CALENDAR

For Richness, Beauty, and Artistic Merit the Malt-Nutrine Calendar For 1906 Outstrips All Others.

The Art Calendar for 1906, issued by the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association is an unquestioned triumph of artists' genius. It is composed of five panels, each 24x10 inches in size, representing the Four Seasons, the extra panel being a Calendar of the year.

The panels are lithographed in twelve colors, picked out with gold, and are bound together with silken cord.

The subjects from the brush of Maud Humphrey, the celebrated artist, are idealized female figures, handled with the chaste delicacy and feeling which characterize Miss Humphrey's work.

Surrounding the central figures are descriptive border designs from the brush of C. A. Etherington, a pupil of Mucha, Paris, the greatest living decorative artist. These are representative of this great artist and in common with all his productions are indeed a symphony of color harmonies.

We understand that this Handsome Calendar, with the season panels entirely free from advertising, will be sent to any address upon receipt of 25 cents or the tops of twelve red tin foil caps from Malt-Nutrine bottles, sent to the Malt-Nutrine department of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, St. Louis, Mo.

ALDERMEN AND SCHOOL BOARD ORGANIZED

O. B. Starks President of Aldermen and Mayor Pro Tem—Dr. H. F. Williamson President of School Board.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

H. F. Williamson, President.
U. S. Walston, Vice President.
W. H. Pitcher, Secretary.

The old board of education adjourned sine die last night at its final meeting at Washington building and the new board organized. Trustees Farley, Mattison, Troutman and Morrison were absent.

On motion of Trustee Sutherland the resolution passed at the meeting Tuesday night relative to keeping policies from the board was rescinded, on account, as Trustee Sutherland said, of the feeling it had unexpectedly aroused.

The minutes of the board were read and approved, and the old board then adjourned and the new members were sworn in.

Mr. P. J. Bechenbach took the chair and announced that the first thing in order was the election of a president.

Dr. H. F. Williamson, for the past year president, was nominated for re-election and unanimously chosen, and Mr. U. S. Walston, who has done good work in the board in past years, was nominated for vice president and unanimously chosen for the position.

The compensation of secretary then came up, and it was moved to increase it from $200 to $300 a year.

It is a position of great responsibility and much work, and Dr. W. H. Pitcher is one of the best and most popular officials the board ever had. The motion to increase the salary to $300 was carried.

The question of Mr. W. T. Byrd's eligibility to hold a position as trustee was then brought up. He is a deputy county clerk, but stated that it was only as clerk of the board of county tax supervisors. That in reality he was not a county officer. A committee composed of Trustees List, Morris and Peter was appointed to investigate and report on the case.

Dr. W. H. Pitcher was then nominated for re-election to the place of secretary, and unanimously elected. Trustee Bechenbach casting the vote of the entire board for him.

President Williamson was then escorted to the chair and in a few well chosen words thanked the board for the honor. He said he would appoint his committees as soon as possible.

The board then adjourned to meet again Tuesday night in special session to make estimates on the amount of money they will need to run the schools this year.

The board of education now consists of: Trustees Henry Gallman and Wm. Karnes, First ward; H. F. Williamson and B. T. Davis, Second ward; W. H. Pitcher and A. List, Third ward; P. J. Bechenbach and U. S. Walston, Fourth ward; W. T. Byrd and W. H. Morris, Fifth ward; J. S. Troutman and W. H. Marlow, Sixth ward.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The new board of aldermen held its first meeting last night since the new members were installed, and elected Mr. Oscar B. Starks president of the board, which makes him mayor pro tem.

City Clerk Henry Bailey called the meeting to order and announced that the first thing in order was the election of a president. All the members were present, as follows: O. B. Starks, E. E. Bell, John Farley, W. T. Miller, C. H. Chamblin, Earl Palmer, Sam Hubbard and Harry Hank. The last four are the new members.

Messrs. O. B. Starks and Earl Palmer were nominated for president, and on the first ballot each received four votes, all voting for Mr. Starks on the second ballot except Starks and Farley.

When President Starks took the chair and thanked the board, he expressed the hope that all would work harmoniously together for the common good of the city.

Mayor D. A. Yeiser's annual address was read, and was quite bulky. He recommends:

Enlargement of the city electric light plant, and installation of machinery that will enable the city to furnish incandescent lights for city buildings.

That a fire engine be installed in the Fourth and Elizabeth street station for use in the factory district.

A new and better contract for furnishing water to the city when the present one expires.

A new bridge over Island creek, and a fill across Cross creek near the railroad yards, and repairs to all the city bridges.

Extension of the city's sanitary sewerage.

A branch market house further out in the city somewhere.

A larger police force.

The restrictions of saloons to certain districts, and no licenses granted for saloons outside the districts, a committee to be appointed to decide on boundaries of the district.

Steps to use the new cemetery that the city bought about two years ago two or three miles out the Hinkleville road, and which has never been used, although it was said at the time $6,000 was paid for it that it was needed then.

That the city was out of debt and had $3,051.73 in the treasury, and that he did not think the tax rate need be over $1.55 this year.

It was ordered that the annual reports of various departments, owing to their length, be printed in pamphlet form and distributed among the members.

$17,000 was reported in the sinking fund.

A resolution was passed revoking the one adopted by the old boards recently that no permits were to hereafter be issued to the East Tennessee Telephone company. The councilmanic board was also present, and after this action was taken by the aldermen, were called into session and ratified the resolution. This, it is understood, was done to use as evidence in the motion for a restraining order to be argued tomorrow at Louisville before Judge Walter Evans, in federal court.

The aldermen then reconvened and Mayor Yeiser reported the resignation of Mr. Ed. Ashbrook from the board of city supervisors. Mr. W. R. Holland was appointed in his place and the appointment was ratified.

President Ed. Noble, of the board of public works, read a report advocating the enlargement of the light plant, the extension of the sanitary sewerage, and the appropriation of about $35,000 for street work for the year. The report was referred to be taken up when the apportionment ordinance comes up.

The report of City Treasurer Doran showed a balance January 1st, of $81,776.83, nearly all of which belongs in the street bond fund.

Repairs were ordered made to the city hall roof, and the question of enlargement of the building will be taken up later.

It was ordered that the city clerk issue no new licenses until the ordinance has been revised.

$75 was ordered refunded to F. M. Matlock, who was refused a saloon license on West Tennessee street. The renewal of saloon licenses was held up until the new license ordinance is passed.

Alderman W. T. Miller made a splendid talk on what kind of work was expected from the board, of how it was elected to represent the people in a fair, sensible and progressive way, and warned the members that if they did not come up to expectations they might expect to be repudiated by the same people who put them there, when the time came. He was liberally applauded for his admirable talk.

It was ordered that a new ordinance be brought in covering the question of exempting manufactories as an inducement to their location.

The following are the standing committees appointed by the president, the first name being that of chairman of the committee:

Finance—Miller, Palmer and Hank Ordinance—Bell, Palmer and Hubbard.

Street—Chamblin, Farley and Palmer.

Light and Water—Palmer, Hubbard and Bell.

Public Improvement—Hank, Bell and Chamblin.

Fire and Police—Farley, Hank and Palmer.

License—Hubbard, Miller and Hank.

Railroad, Telegraph and Telephone—Miller, Chamblin and Bell.

Hospital, Sewer and Sanitary—Palmer, Farley and Miller.

Relief—Hank, Bell and Hubbard.

Cemetery—Hubbard, Hank and Farley.

Printing—Bell, Chamblin and Farley.

Enrollment—Chamblin, Hubbard and Miller.

Judiciary—Farley, Chamblin and Miller.

Committee of the Whole.

After the aldermen adjourned, the councilmen and aldermen held a joint session as committee of the whole to consider the license ordinance. The boards held the meeting behind closed doors, because it does not desire to make public the provisions of the ordinance until it has it completed and ready to pass. It is usually the case that every class of business thinks its license is too high, and raises a kick when it finds the amount charged. The desire of the members of the board is to fix the amounts at what they believe is equitable, and let them stand, complaints and protests to be ignored.

Theatrical Notes

Howard Herrick, press representative of "The Clansman," is at the Palmer today.

The coming of Olga, the Countess von Hatzfeldt, to this city in "The Little Duchess," in which she is now appearing, will be welcome news to the theatergoers of this city and vicinity. The Countess has in the role of the little duchess one of the congenial that she has held in all her theatrical career. The musical comedy in which the countess makes her appearance here is DeKoven and Smith's "The Little Duchess" in which Anna Held appeared so successfully for a time. The cast supporting the countess is one of exceptional merit and is composed of well known and clever people. The chorus was especially chosen for its ability, and in every way the piece is one of the best now before the public and up to the present time has pleased immensely wherever it has been presented. Wednesday matinee and night. Matinee prices: Children 25 cents, adults 75 cents and $1.00. Among the song hits in "The Little Duchess" are the following: "A Dip in the Billowy Sea," Countess von Hatzfeldt and chorus, "What the Wild Waves Say," Irving Brooks and chorus, "The Menagerie 'Chloe' George Moore and double quartette, "You YOU, YOU," Eugene O'Brien "Sadie," Harry Carter and chorus of Sadie girls; "Carrissima," Countess von Hatzfeldt; the fencing song and the grand finale.

"The Woman in the Case" was enjoyed by a fairly large audience at the Kentucky theater last night, but it was a fine entertainment. Somehow the impression got out that the play was not exactly proper. Those who know Clyde Fitch, however, and have read of Mrs. Blanch Walsh, who first played it, should have known better, but many didn't, and for that reason missed a treat.

The story is one of a husband who is accused of the murder of his best friend and who is in danger of conviction because of circumstances arising from the fact that he kept this friend from marrying a bad woman by exposing her in time, for which she never forgave him. His wife is loyal, and by her splendid tact entraps the woman, secures a confession when the case seems almost hopeless for her husband on account of the piqued woman's perjury, and all ends well.

Margaret Bennett as the wife is a splendid actress, and Hope Latham, as the siren, or "woman in the case," is one of the best actresses seen here in many a day. The whole company was strong, even to the prison attendant, who had nothing to do except, well, just to act like an attendant, which he did admirably. Dorothy Crane, as the mother, did good character work, and of the men Thos. Coffin Cooke, as Thompson, the lawyer, and Albert Brown as Julian Rolfe, the accused husband, stand far above the average actor. The first three acts of the play are interesting throughout, and the last is rather short and tame, because the story has practically been told in the first three acts, and the fourth is almost superfluous.

MAYOR YEISER

MUST STAY WELL AND IN TOWN FOR TWO YEARS.

Or a Republican Will Occupy the Mayor's Chair as the Executive Pro Tem.

Mayor D. A. Yeiser will have to stay mighty well, and mighty close in Paducah, for the next two years, or Paducah will have a republican mayor for the first time in the city's history. The present mayor protem, Alderman O. B. Starks, is a republican, and in the absence or disability of Mayor Yeiser would be entitled to discharge the duties of mayor. Hence if Mayor Yeiser leaves the city or gets too ill to discharge his duties, Alderman Starks would occupy the executive chair.

Many are wondering if the mayor will go to Frankfort to lobby in favor of the measures desired by second-class cities as he did two years ago. The mayor says he has not decided whether he will go or not. If he goes Alderman Starks will be acting mayor. If Alderman Starks is taken by the mayor to Frankfort with him, President George O. McBroome, president of the council, would be mayor.

BOARD OF CHARITIES.

Will Be Created in Kentucky if New Bill Is Passed.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 5.—If two of the bills introduced by Senator Charlton, of Louisville, are passed at this session, Kentucky will have a state board of charities.

The bill providing for the state board of charities is designed to place all the prisons, jails, infirmaries, public hospitals and asylums under a board, consisting of six men who are to serve without compensation. These men are to be appointed by the governor, who is to be a member ex-officio and president. Two of the members are to be appointed for one year, two for two years and two for three years, so that it will be a perpetual body. It is to have offices in Frankfort, and is to meet quarterly or oftener if necessary.

The board is authorized to investigate the whole system of public charities and correctional institutions of the state, to examine into their conditions and management and prescribe forms to make uniform all reports and registrations.

A secretary with a salary is provided for. An appropriation of $4,000 is made to pay the necessary expenses of the board. An emergency is declared and the law would become effective at once if it is passed.

SALOON DISTRICT.

A New Idea, But It May Prove to Be a Good One Later On.

The recommendation of the mayor that saloons be restricted to a certain territory or district in Paducah is a new one for Paducah, and it is not known with what favor it will be received.

It is understood that a number of city officials have decided that all the saloons should be in the business part of the city, where they can be better watched. The police, it is reported, are convinced, many of them by years of experience, that it would be best for the saloons, best for the men who drink in them, and best for the general public, to corral them, and have them tabood outside of the business district.

This would probably result in fewer saloons in Paducah, but would enable the city to put the license up high enough to make up the loss to the city, and still not make the license too high for the remaining saloon keepers to pay, because they would have less competition.

FORTUNE FOR GIRL.

Miss Bessie Dismukes, of Lexington, Heir to $100,000 Through the Death of an Uncle.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 5.—Information has been received by Miss Bessie Dismukes, of this place, that she has fallen heir to a fortune of $100,000 through the death of an uncle in Baltimore. Miss Dismukes has not learned if the money was willed to her, but it is believed that it was, because she was named for the favorite sister of the bachelor uncle and was his favorite. Miss Dismukes is a handsome brunette of about thirty, and resides with her mother here on Foreman avenue.

Is That So?

It is reported that Mr. Guthrie Diuguid, retiring marshal of Murray, is to take a place on the force of Paducah. Mr. Diuguid is a good man, who thoroughly understands police work. He would be a valuable addition to Paducah's "finest."—Murray Ledger.

Daily Thought.

Make the best you can of the worst you get.

THE TAX RATE.

Mayor Yeiser's annual message embraces some recommendations that can be freely endorsed by most every good citizen, but his gratuitous observation that in his opinion the tax rate need not be over $1.55 this year is ridiculous, to say the least, coming as it does from the head of the administration that has given Paducah the three largest tax rates in the city's history. It is hoped to cut down the tax rate this year, and if it can be done it will be done, but it could not be done, or was not done, by Mayor Yeiser and his administration.

The mayor recommends in his message an enlargement of the light plant, a new bridge, a costly fill, additional sanitary sewerage, a new market house, a public park, and other things. If he was sincere in these recommendations, and thinks the city needs them and should have them, and wants the city to get them, he should have explained to the legislative boards how they are to obtain them without money, or how the boards are to obtain the money with a tax rate which the mayor says need not be over $1.55 this year, when his own administrations were unable to get them with $1.65 and $1.85 tax rates.

To be plainer, Mayor Yeiser's last three years of administration have produced tax rates of $1.85, $1.65 and $1.85. The city has spent every cent of the money thus raised each year, and in some instances did not then have enough. The city built no new bridges of consequence, established no public parks, flatly refused to enlarge the city light plant, failed to extend the sanitary sewerage which a republican administration built several years ago, and has taken no steps to build an additional market house, the new one having been paid for by a bond issue, and not out of the taxes raised. So with these three immense tax rates, the mayor and his administrations were unable or unwilling to do a single one of the things the mayor in his message read last night recommends, and yet he wants them done by the new boards, if he is sincere in his recommendations, and says he thinks the tax rate can be cut down to $1.55, a rate about 30 cents on the hundred dollars lower than his own administration was able or willing to give the people!

We hope the tax rate can be cut down even lower than $1.55, and hope that the city will be able to get all that the mayor recommends, but we don't believe that an administration that has saddled the city with these tax rates can do so.

show how it can be done, why does he say he thinks it can be done?

UNFAIR AND BURDENSOME TAXATION.

The tax-payers in the city of Paducah will never get a square deal in the matter of state and county taxes until they are given the proper number of representatives on the county board of tax supervisors. At present there are ten supervisors. Four from the city and four from the county have a vote each—an equal division. The other two together have one vote between them, which makes the board half and half. This is not a fair proportion, as the residents of the city pay two-thirds or more of the state and county taxes, because the property inside the city is assessed at much more than the total of that in the county outside of the city. As the situation now is, no assessment of county property can be raised by the supervisors unless the four members of the board who are residents of the county want to raise it—and it is said they usually do not. They have in past years adhered to the principle, it is alleged, of making the city property assessment for state and county taxes as high as possible and keeping those in the county outside the city, down to the lowest notch.

Disinterested real estate dealers, and some of the former members of the county boards of supervisors, declare that all county property is under-assessed from ten to thirty per cent., and has been for years.

It has in past years frequently been the case that the supervisors proposed to raise the assessment on a piece of town property. The members of the board from the county readily voted with the others to raise the assessment to what it should be, but when a piece of property in the county was found the assessment of which was too low, somehow they could not always see their way clear to raise it, and having as many votes as the city half of the board, the necessary majority was not to be had to raise it, hence the assessment remained too low.

In this way the owner of property in the city gets all that is coming to him. Already overloaded with city taxes, he finds that most of the state and county taxes are also loaded on to him. It is a very unfair discrimination, but there is no remedy possible except to have an equitable, correct assessment to start with, or to give the city, which pays two-thirds of the state and county taxes, a two-thirds membership on the board.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

It is to be hoped that the mayor will try to reach the dignified requirements of his high office, and not be a demagogue. We are all here to work for the common good, and if he wants to play politics he will be fully exposed, so what's the use? Now for instance the mayor recommends in his annual message somewhere near, at a rough guess, $150,000 worth of improvements. He knows that the tax rate for the year just past was $1.85, and although it raised $40,000 or $50,000 more money than the previous year, it was not enough to make a single one of these improvements that the mayor recommends. Or, if it was enough to make the improvements, and the mayor and his administration did not do it, it is all the worse, for if it could have been done it should have been done.

It is hoped to make the tax rate $1.55 this year, but it cannot be done and make the improvements that the mayor recommends, but was unable to get with his three monster tax rates, two of them the maximum, $1.85. The mayor should not try to load all these improvements on the republicans in one year. Give us time. We believe the mayor will come around all right. He is now for sanitary sewerage. He was against it when the present system was built by the republicans a few years ago. He fought it and it was "roasted" from the time it was started until it was finished. Now he wants more of it, and so do most of the other democrats who opposed it. The trouble was they didn't know much about modern improvements in those days, Paducah having never had any until the republicans elected their first council. It was the same way with the street roller. It was called the "white elephant" and other names too numerous to mention, and they tried every way possible to break it up. Since then, Mayor Yeiser's administrations have bought a larger roller than the "white elephant" the republicans had. It is that way with everything.

We are progressive, Mr. Mayor, and will do everything in time. All we ask is, don't try to muddy the waters. Don't tell the people you believe a $1.55 tax rate can be made when you have never made it yourself.

GOV. TAYLOR'S CASE.

(Louisville Herald.)

The article elsewhere reproduced from the Washington, Ind., Herald is a very fair presentation of the case of Gov. Taylor from an Indiana non-partisan standpoint. Not from Kentucky justice, but from Kentucky partisan injustice did Gov. Taylor fly to Indiana. The decisions pronounced by Kentucky's court of last resort on the "verdicts" so called in the Caleb Powers trials shows just what sort of treatment Gov. Taylor would have had if ever permitted to stand mock trial in any court room where injustice has been dispensed in this state. Good ground is there to believe that Gov. Taylor's life had been, if he ever fell into the hands of the Kentucky Goebettes, at the mercy of bloodthirsty assassins.

Indiana, by the protection extended to a man robbed of office and long menaced by Cantrillization and Tom Campbellization, is doing honorable and humane service to Kentucky and to American justice.

ROW OVER BARBOUR.

Louisville Wants to Get Former Kitty First Baseman.

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 5.—Manager Tebeau, of the Louisville American Association baseball team, is attempting to convince Louie Barbour, the star first baseman of last season's Kitty league, that he is a member of the Louisville club, and has ordered him to report to the club March 20. Near the close of last season, the national commission agreed that the Kitty league could disband a few weeks earlier than the schedule called for and still retain its players for the coming season in any manner in which they saw fit. An opportunity was given Barbour to join Louisville, and he did so, Tebeau knowing under what conditions the player joined the team. Tebeau refused to buy him at the close of the season, and the local management has ordered Barbour to report here and ignore Tebeau unless the latter gets the player by purchase or by draft.

JUMPED INTO CREEK.

Young Man Believed to Have Attempted Suicide.

Ernest Palmer made an unsuccessful attempt, it is said, to end his life Wednesday afternoon by plunging into the Mayfield creek at the point where it crosses the public road near the Thogmartin place, about three miles southeast of town, says the Mayfield Monitor.

Palmer was driving along the road with a friend, and while crossing the stream, he asked that the buggy be stopped, and he alighted and plunged into the cold waters. He was at once rescued and Dr. Stevens was summoned. After some work Palmer was left in good condition to recover.

He has been working in tobacco at Dresden, Tenn., for the past season and has been visiting in and around Mayfield for the past few weeks.

It is said that he had been drinking heavily.

ALLEGED LUNACY.

A German Harness Maker Locked Up to Await Trial.

John Gabriel, a German, who says he has been in this country only eight months, is in jail pending trial for lunacy.

The lunatic is about 25 years of age and speaks brokenly. He has been working at harness making, but says he has thirteen other trades and has been in the asylum too many times to count. He remembers one instance in Germany when he was placed in the asylum he says, and this was in 1900. He had been in St. Louis working until the 6th of December when he came here.

He was arrested at his boarding house last night and taken to the jail for safe keeping. He is not violent, but seems to be a great deal "off" all the time. He will be tried before Judge Reed, probably this week. Gabriel was arrested at the Kettler House by Patrol Driver John Austin.

C., is in the city conferring with Postmaster Happy regarding the establishment of free delivery of mail for Mayfield. He says that the city of Mayfield is entitled to free delivery provided the houses are numbered and the streets named and this must be done before he can recommend free delivery.

Had a Sister Here.

Cadiz, Ky., Jan. 5.—Mr. Ralph Ryan, one of the leading citizens of Golden Pond and most prosperous business men, was found dead in bed.

Mr. Ryan and his wife occupied the same room but different beds during the night, and on this fatal morning Mrs. Ryan arose as usual and went to get breakfast. When breakfast was ready she went to call her husband, but he failed to answer, and upon going to the bed she found he was dead, but had evidently not been dead very long, as his body was still warm. Heart disease is supposed to have caused his death.

Mr. Ryan was a member of the firm of Wilson & Ryan, one of the leading business houses of Golden Pond. He leaves a wife and daughter and one brother, Mr. Wallis Ryan, of Golden Pond, and a sister, Mrs. Green, of Paducah.

BASEBALL DOPE.

A Great Deal Depends On the Meeting Sunday.

Says today's Cairo Bulletin: Treasurer Gosnell of Vincennes, will be here Sunday for a conference. As yet the Paducah people have made no reply although they have been written three times. They are evidently not as anxious for baseball as they have all along pretended.

Much depends on the result of the conference here next Sunday. It may be that the Kitty league will die simply because no one so far has volunteered to furnish the missionary work. The job is easy but no one seems to want to tackle it.

Handsomeness Entertained in Louisville.

"Mrs. Hampden Zane and Mrs. Luke P. Blackburn gave one of the most delightful entertainments of the winter yesterday afternoon for Bishop and Mrs. Charles Edward Woodcock. The old Bruce home has been remodeled into a most beautiful house, and as this was the first large entertainment Mrs. Zane and Mrs. Blackburn have given since taking possession, it was in the nature of a house warming. The decorations were all in keeping with the season, and holly and mistletoe were used with charming effect. The parlor where the guests were received was a bower of American beauties, and Mrs. Zane and Mrs. Blackburn were assisted in receiving by the members of their family, Mesdames Charles T. Ballard, Thurston Ballard, Herman D. Newcomb and Arthur Peter. The refreshment table in the dining room had a gold and crystal epergne in the center, filled with frosted grapes, and the candlesticks surrounding it held red tapers and shades. Suspended from the chandelier above was a magnolia wreath tied with broad red ribbons.—Louisville Evening Post.

IN THE COURTS

Circuit Court.

In the case of the Tradewater Coal Co., against C. R. Mason, a former agent here, a judgment for $448, balance on account, was rendered in favor of the plaintiff.

In the case of James Crane against Lydia Crane, a judgment for divorce was filed.

The case of C. W. Cherry against the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Co. was dismissed, a compromise having been effected.

A mandate from the court of appeals was filed ordering a new trial in the case of John McHenry against Ed. C. Terrell. The suit was brought to secure payment for a roof placed on the Kentucky Stock Yards stables on South Third street.

In the case of Evelyn P. Lyon against the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Co., a mandate affirming the decision of the lower court was filed. The plaintiff got judgment for costs.

Licensed to Marry.

Judge Lightfoot Back.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot returned this morning from Wickliffe where he had been to try a civil action.

He represented the plaintiff in the suit of Lula Warford against J. S. Doris, a physician, for $10,000 damages for alleged injuries to her arm which she alleges was set wrong after being broken. The case was argued last night and the jury got it this morning.

A message was received this afternoon that the plaintiff was awarded $1,000 damages by the jury.

To Resell Hessig Distillery.

Attorney W. V. Eaton is preparing to file application for the trustees of Dr. H. T. Hessig, a bankrupt, for the re-sale of his distillery property, which was sold to Mr. Frank Bernard, and also for a judgment on his bond, which is $9,492, with interest from last June.

When this property was put up Mr. Bernard bought it in but has never paid for it. The filing of the petition will simply mean that the property will again be sold at public auction. The distillery contains 9,000 gallons of fine whiskey. It is in the bonded warehouse.

Deeded Property Back.

Two deeds were filed in county court yesterday, one by Victor Voris and wife and the other by Zoe Hanman to the Home Purchasing Co. receivers, F. G. Rudolph and Cecil Reed, transferring property bought with loans made the former by the Home Purchasing Co., while it was doing business. The former secured a loan of $1,000 and latter a loan of $650. Notes held by the Home Purchasing Co. were cancelled with the filing of the deeds.

No Circuit Court.

There was no circuit court today on account of the illness of Judge Reed. It is probable that no more court will be held before Monday.

Today one suit was filed in circuit court, and other than this business in that tribunal was at a standstill.

The suit was filed by R. A. Hale against Nolle and Lally, of Mayfield, for a $100 note alleged due.

Deeds.

Mack Smith and others deed to C. M. Ross, for $500, property in the county.

Martha Bryant deeded to Milas Bryant, for $5, property on Madison street.

Sheppard shouldered his gun and walked to the north end of the parapet. Stopping, he looked into the darkness, and the next moment his voice sounded from below my feet. "Follow me, Ned," he called. Groping about with feet and hands, I came upon an open hole in the floor and, entering my legs cautiously, happened upon the first step in a stone stairway. Diligently stepping down this through sheer blackness, I came upon Sheppard's heels into what by comparison seemed daylight. The stars glistened in the canopy of heaven. I was out upon the battlements.

"We might have known there was some communication between the keep and the battlement," said Sheppard. "You see the advantage. I've been pacing this walk like a sentinel for the last two hours."

"Can you get right round?"

"I'll show you," he returned and led the way along that lofty roadway. The battlements naturally stretched across the width of the castle, running from wall to wall. The parapet stood some five feet high and was broken with the machicolations of the design. There was ample space, therefore, for twenty men at arms to march abreast along the heights. Sheppard moved lightly, his head just swiveling clear of the parapet and the black darkness contained between the shadows of the ramparts. The leaden roof was incumbered with rubbish. Presently Sheppard paused, and there rose quickly before me out of the superincumbent gloom the blacker mass of the drum towers. Feeling his way, Sheppard hit upon an iron ladder connecting with the heights above, and presently we stood upon the topmost pinnacle of the castle and peered from it into the night. The nocturnal mists and blackness of the valley below were slowly shifting. The trees gradually grew black, showing against a vast and gray gloom. Yet there was no light visible in those seething changes of the elements. The night still hung about us.

The southern drum tower looked down upon deeper shadows, and I could not see the wall below. I turned to my companion for an explanation and smiled at the confusion of my own brain when he answered: "That's the south, Ned. You know the battlements are in ruins there."

Of course they were, but I was not to be deterred from a complete circuit of the walls by that small fact, and I groped for the ladder.

"Be careful, Ned," said Sheppard. "Better not. Wait till it's light."

Now, I knew very well at the time that he spoke wisely and that I was merely taking a rash hazard for no better purpose than to display to myself my own determination or obstinacy, if you will. But the feeling was strong upon me, and so, picking my steps down the ladder, I paid him no attention. Presently my foot, descending, shot through empty air, and coincidentally with that the iron bar to which I was clinging with my left hand ceased abruptly. For a moment I had a sickly sensation in my stomach, and I went quite cold. But, bracing myself together, I knelt upon the lowermost step and launched my body into space.

I have no intention, as I say, of defending my foolishness, nor do I take any credit for my ultimate escape from what was undoubtedly a deadly peril. My legs kicked aimlessly in the air and found no rest. I tightened my hold upon the iron of the ladder and strove to pull myself up. But my wrists had already weakened in that tedious and unavailing oscillation in space, and, to my horror, I realized that I could not get back.

"Sheppard!" I called faintly.

"Ned! Ned!" came Sheppard's whisper from above, and I was vaguely aware of a tiny spark of light shining as it were in heaven. The glow lit up the remnants of the iron ladder, and below this I could see as I hung the luminous brows of the ruined wall and the gleaming lights of water far away. Yet this illumination proved my salvation. The ruins were over-run with masses of Irish ivy, as I have said, and in the course of centuries this strongly growing creeper had clambered over and beyond the proper limits of decay and clothed with great twisted branches the wall of the drum tower at one side of me. Groping from my exertions, I reached a hand toward these leaves and, catching at a thick stem like a cable, clung to it desperately while dividing my weight between the two supports. My only anxiety was as to whether the ivy would hold. Its attachment to the stones of the wall must be precarious, and yet I had to trust it, and, poising an instant between the two, I dropped slowly upon the creeper. The friendly branches held, and I slipped carefully down until I stood upon the broken stones of the ruined wall. High above I saw Sheppard light another match and heard his voice calling to me, but I had no strength to reply. He flung the light from him, and descending in an arc, it passed between my eyes and went out with a fizzle below. I leaned over, and the grayness of the coming dawn lay in the water thirty feet beneath me. A fragment of stone, detached by my movement, rumbled over the margin and fell with a great blot into the moat. There were twelve feet of water in the fosse. I shuddered and called back to Sheppard.

"I was afraid something had happened to you," said he. "Are you all right?"

I explained the position. "Wait there, and I'll join you from the other side. You old fool, Ned!"

I accepted the criticism meekly and retained my place upon the ivy covered ruins until I heard the sound of feet upon my right and presently perceived Sheppard crawling over the stones toward me. He sat down near me, panting.

"You can get down from the other side pretty easily," he declared. "It's well to remember that."

"I don't quite see why you have done so," I answered, rather ungratefully.

"You would be better asleep."

"Oh, nonsense!" he exclaimed; then, after a pause, "The dawn will be up directly, Ned."

Presently his head nodded upon his shoulder. I let him sleep. He must have been worn with his long vigil and the longer toil. I knew that he would not go to bed and he had better take what rest was possible in this illegitimate way. The stars faded and went out, yet the dawn seemed long in coming. I pulled out my watch and, striking a match, consulted it. It was half past 3. Sheppard's head lurched forward, and his breath grew stertorous. A thin fine line of light cut across the eastern horizon, and then suddenly a stick cracked below me. I started, alert, intent, the drums roaring in my ears. A soft sibilant as of voices exchanged below the breath caught my eager senses. Surely I could discern the noise of footsteps falling quietly upon the grass. I strained my sight to pierce that gray-black cloud of gloom, but there was nothing visible, and, leaning softly forward, I touched Sheppard upon the shoulder. He was awake in an instant and ere I knew it whispering at me under his breath: "What is it? Are they come?"

"Listen!" I murmured. Sheppard turned to me, motioning with his hand. Reaching close, he put his lips to my ears.

"They're down by the moat, exploring," he said—"several, I think. Shall I fire?"

I grasped his hand in return. "No, no," I murmured back. "You stay here and keep quiet with your shot-gun. I'm going down to find out."

With which I slipped noiselessly on hands and knees until I reached the back parts of the wall. From here it was a descent of twenty feet or more into the courtyard, but the face of the ruin was irregular, and I found, by groping, projecting stones which offered me a foothold, so that presently I dropped to the flags of the yard without sound and stole into the house.

My first duty was to awaken Montgomery and the man Williams. Both of them I dispatched by means of a ladder to join Sheppard on the heights, and that done, I took a lantern and descended into the corridor of dungeons. My light was but feeble, and my progress was necessarily slow along that path of inky blackness. At each of the turnings I paused and, proceeded to the bottom, peered out through the grating on the waters of the fosse. I had in this manner and exercising this precaution made the circuit of half the castle and was now upon the southern face and, as I concluded, in the proximity of Sheppard and the others. Here it was that I met my first alarm. As I gazed out of the grating on my tour of inspection and was almost now convinced that our fears had been unnecessary and that we had been deceived by the early movements of the dawn, suddenly there grew before my eyes and out of the grayness a vast head, set with horrible rolling eyes and with a profusion of shaggy hair. The apparition loomed before the bars of the window and with a quick movement seemed to push forward as though to enter. Involuntarily I started back into the darkness. The face glared at me, pressing upon the bars, the lip twisted over the red gums and yellow fangs, and the water dripping from its black hair. Its eyes measured me with a glance, and for half a minute of time we stood confronting each other, my tiny thread of light streaking the ghastly apparition with yellow. The next moment it had vanished, and my wits refusing in a tide, I flung myself forward to the grating and looked out. The lantern shone upon the dark waters, and that was all. But this was more than enough for me, and I was aware that it was likely to be quite enough for our assailants.

Hurriedly I quitted the corridor and regained the upper air. By means of the ladder I reached the rest of the party and at once communicated my information.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at W. B. McPherson's Drug Store; price 50c.

CHORUS STRUCK

It Followed the Organization of a Union in New York.

New York, Jan. 5.—Gounod's "Faust" was sung at the Metropolitan Opera-house Wednesday night without a chorus, the result of a strike by the recently organized chorus union. The chorus on Monday demanded that the salary be raised nearly 50 per cent. Director Heinrich Conried met the representatives of the union and told them that if the members of the chorus would come to him as individuals he would use his best efforts to better their condition, but would refuse to treat with them as members of a labor union.

Wednesday night when the usual hour for reporting came none of the chorus put in an appearance.

Mr. Conried appeared and addressed the audience, telling briefly of his dealing with the chorus union's representatives and stating that a new chorus would be organized as speedily as possible no performance being omitted in the meantime. Mr. Conried told the members of the chorus that no one who went on strike in violation of an individual contract would be reengaged for a Metropolitan chorus. The chorus numbered about 150 persons.

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L. L. D. Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." Sold by Alvey & List.

Murray's New Railroad.

Murray has a new railroad at last. The citizens have been anxious for one running east and west and their desire has at last been gratified. Mr. Geo. Wallis, of the big stove and heading factory, has promoted a road known as the Pottertown and Calloway Midland. He has secured the right-of-way to Clark's river from the N. C. & St. L. depot and the road is already in operation for some distance. The rails at present are of wood, but Mr. Wallis says this makes no difference as soft soap is plentiful. —Murray Ledger.

After vainly trying everything else, I cured it with Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's great for burns, cuts and wounds. At W. B. McPherson's Drug Store; only 25c.

NEW KIND OF KITE.

Lifts a Man Weighing 165 Pounds—Contains Many Cells.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, believes that his experiment with a kite Wednesday on his Nova Scotia estate has brought him a step nearer the solution of aerial navigation. "The demonstration Wednesday with 'Frost King' has shown the power of the combination of little things," said Prof. Bell today. "Now the 'Frost King' is very much like the other kites I have used in the past year or two. The tetrahedral-shaped kite, I think, is the one that is going to be the most successful kite-flying machine. The weight of all other kites has increased a great deal more rapidly, as they grew in size than their supporting power warranted."

Prof. Bell then exhibited a kite model showing some winged cells, joined together, and explained that the kite can be built of them to the size of a house, and yet the proportion of weight to the "wing," or supporting power, will remain just the same as in a kite as large as a chair. "The 'Frost King' is composed of a multitude of small, fragile cells that would not lift a hen individually and could not be broken by a man's little finger, but combine them and they are capable of standing a pull of many hundred pounds," continued professor. "In the case Wednesday a man weighing 165 pounds hung on the rope and not a cell was injured. I took a picture of this performance, and I am glad nothing happened to the man, as he has been injured several times in working around these kites."

More Bad Checks

SAID TO HAVE TURNED UP AGAINST NORFLEET.

His Case Continued Today—Other Cases in the Police Court Today.

The case against J. T. Norfleet, charged with forgery, was called again in police court this morning but continued on account of the prosecution asking for more time in which to gather evidence against the defendant.

It has developed since yesterday that Norfleet is alleged to have done quite a business in the bogus check line. One $10 check was returned this morning and the others are expected daily. Mr. Henry Douglas was "worked" for only one check for $10.

Norfleet is still unable to give bond and was returned to jail pending trial which is set for Monday morning.

Other cases today were John Mix, white, carrying concealed weapons, $50 and costs fine and ten days in jail; appeal taken; Mrs. Sweeney, white, drunk, $1 and costs; Billie Farmer, white, drunkenness, $1 and costs.

EDITOR SUE

And Got $5,000 Damages From a Telegraph Company.

Vicksburg, Miss., Jan. 5.—In the United States court here Judge H. C. Niles presiding, the case of J. C. Cashman, editor of the Vicksburg Morning Post, vs. the Western Union Telegraph company was decided in favor of Cashman, who was given $5,000 damages.

Mr. Cashman sued the company for damages because it received at Oxford, Miss., transmitted to Vicksburg and delivered to him an alleged vile, insulting and defamatory telegram signed by former United States W. V. Sullivan. The plaintiff sought to recover $25,000 damages.

The message was signed by W. V. Sullivan and was a denunciation of a dispatch appearing in the Post October 31, 1901, in which Senator Sullivan and a lady were made a figure in a sensational manner.

The veracity of the story as printed by the Vicksburg Post was not brought into question and was not involved in the suit. The plaintiff sought to recover damages because the Post article was branded by Senator Sullivan as "an infernal lie," and Cashman was referred to as "a nasty dog."

This was the second trial of the case. At a former sifting of the federal court the plaintiff recovered damages in the sum of $15,000 and the case was appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals at New Orleans, being later remanded to this court for a rehearing.

Our building must be vacated by March 1. $12,000 worth of Ladies' Cloaks, Furs, Suits, Skirts, Waists, Underwear, etc., at less than manufacturers' cost. Some months ago we consummated a deal for large interests in the west, in an entirely different line of business. This deal becomes effective March 1st. In order to close out entire stock by that date we begin SATURDAY, JANUARY 6th, and inaugurate the greatest sacrifice sale of Ladies' High Class Tailor Made Goods ever held in the state. This is not a fake sale to drum up business for January, but a genuine going out of business sale, where all classes of goods will be sacrificed for SPOT CASH. We cannot move a dollar's worth of these goods and must have the cash instead. A visit to our store cannot help but convince the most skeptical that these are actual facts and that we mean business to the letter. Our six years' business stay in Paducah has established the fact that we carry no old time shoddy or shelf worn goods. Every dollar's worth of goods in our stock is of this season's purchasing. We have a well earned reputation for carrying strictly up-to-date high class merchandise. Our Cloaks, Suits and Skirts are strictly man tailored and perfect fitting.

Our Furs

Are representative of the high-class furriers of this country, such as Annis & Co., of Detroit, and Carlos Fur Co., of New York.

300 PRESENT

AT THE W. O. W. INSTALLATION AND BANQUET.

The Elks Corner-Stone Laying Will Take Place Week After Next.

One of the largest gatherings of its kind in Paducah was the Jersey Camp, W. O. W. meeting at Broadfoot's hall last night. It was an open session attended by about three hundred people, and the installation of officers for Jersey Camp and Evergreen Circle was public. Mr. Jack Calloway conducted the ceremonies for Evergreen Circle and the following were installed:

Mrs. Sallie Roder, worthy guardian; Mrs. Nannie Derrington, advisor; Mrs. Rosa Kettler, magician; Mrs. Mary Fields, banker; Mrs. Anna Galloway, clerk; Mrs. Sarah Hays attendant; Mrs. Mattie Griffin, inside sentinel; George R. Broadfoot and Mrs. Amanda Iseman managers.

The Elks at their regular meeting last night did not fix the time for laying the corner-stone to their new building, but left it to the corner-stone committee, which will probably set some day week after next.

The Elks at their meeting last night as they do every year, donated a car load of coal to the Charity club for distribution among the poor.

Mr. Martin Yopp, past counsel commander, conducted the installation of Jersey Camp, the officers being: Jack A. Calloway, counsel commander; Elijah Birchett, advisor; Lieutenant; George R. Broadfoot, clerk; Claude Baker, banker; Nat Derrington, escort; Thomas Reed, watchman; Charles Smith, outside sentinel; J. M. Cross, Alben Barkley and S. H. Pryor, managers.

After the installation an elegant banquet was served and greatly enjoyed.

The Beavers will meet tonight at Elks hall, and will decide on lodge rooms, and other matters of importance. Among the principal things to consider will be the election of officers.

urer. The noble grand selected the following officers: Joseph E. Potter, chaplain; William Morgan, right support to noble grand; Ernest He-fin, left support to noble grand; G. N. Warren, warden; C. G. Kelly, conductor; Hal Sullivan, inside guardian; Frank Rhee, outside guardian; supporter.

REMODELING AND PRE-INVENTORY SALE

SALE BEGINS SATURDAY, JANUARY 6

The new year is on us and with it come the necessary changes to be made. Beginning February 1 we are going to remodel our store, and in order to do our usual amount of business we have decided to make some very heavy cuts in prices. Now in making these prices we lose sight of all profits and have before us only the idea of turning our stock into money before we take stock or commence to improve the building. You know what a cut price sale means at this store. It means prices CUT. We won't waste words in explanation, but refer you to the prices below. Your dollars will do almost double duty. Put them to work.
